Cordell Clark is adventurous, creative, and passionate about discovering and sharing new experiences. Cordell exudes curiosity and finds meaningful ways to connect with people and the world around him. We asked Cordell a few questions to get to know him better, and here is what he had to share.

If you could do another job for just one day, what would it be?

I would love to be a park ranger in a national park! Being able to go around and experience the natural wonders that are out there to explore and to share those amazing experiences with newcomers would be awesome!

What is your best business tip?

Always take the time to listen to the client's stories and backgrounds. If you can learn how a client thinks and ticks, you can better advise them to your fullest potential.

What is your personal motto or mantra?

Try everything twice!

People would be surprised to know:

I got to travel the country playing Quidditch (yes it is a real sport!) I was the 4th best seeker in the world for the few years that I played. It allowed me to meet some lifelong friends, my beautiful wife, and led to some broken bones but all in good fun!

Do you have a hobby?

I love woodworking (much to the chagrin of my wife as she gets all the "experiments" lol). Being able to use my hands to create something from just a plank is extremely rewarding.
