Maricar Marquez is curious, determined, and adventurous. She knows the value of pushing through a tough climb to reach the view at the top and truly believes, "Don't do to others what you wouldn't want done to you." We asked Maricar a few questions to get to know her better, and here is what she had to share.

If you could do another job for just one day, what would it be?

I would want to be an Astronomer. Working in a major deep-space observatory like the James Webb Space Telescope. It would be incredible to see and capture pictures of galaxies and other astronomical objects.

Where is the best place you have traveled and why?

I would like to say the countries and places in the Philippines I've been to but I think it's when I'm at the top of a mountain. It's so serene, so beautiful and always an added greatest achievement in life. What you will experience going up and down is really such a challenge, like I don't want to anymore but I have to do it, I'll just keep trying to picture what I will see and experience and what I gained. I'm not really an active person but when it comes to hiking I suddenly have the strength and energy for it. Mt. Pinatubo is one of my faves!

What's one thing you can't resist?

Sleeping in! If it's in the weekend, I can sleep the whole day if I don't have any scheduled plans.

People would be surprised to know:

Drinking coffee makes me sleepy. The stronger the coffee, the stronger the effect it has on me.

Do you have a hobby?

Reading. I love reading mostly fiction books. Whenever I'm reading, it's like I'm being transported to what I read.
