Rachel loves Jesus, her family, lifting weights, being on the water, Diet Dr. Pepper, and CAKE.

Rachel Dillon is passionate about helping people improve. She loves to watch people gain confidence through learning new things. Rachel has owned many titles at Dillon Business Advisors but loves her current role working mostly behind the scenes. We asked Rachel a few questions to get to know her better, and here is what she had to share.

What is your best business-advisory related tip?

Clearly define what you really want in life and what is really important to you. Say "yes" to the things that align with your values and goals, and say "no" to everything else!

If you could do another job for just one day, what would it be?

Cirque du Soleil performer. I love how they showcase their strength and flexibility as well as the entertainment value it brings.

Where is your favorite place to be?

With my people in a new place. I love to explore and experience new places with the people I love most, family and friends.

Do you have a hobby?

Weightlifting. I love progress, improvement, and proving to myself that I can do hard things. I love feeling strong, and I may also have a slight obsession with workout clothes!

What is one accomplishment you are most proud of?

Starting and continuing our podcast, Who's Really the Boss?, with Marcus. I love that we are able to share the life and business challenges we have faced as a couple with others, and that we are able to discuss how to navigate or even prevent those same struggles for our listeners.

People would be surprised to know:

I don't like coffee, and I have never purchased a drink (for myself) from Starbucks other than a bottle of water.
